GRADUATE COURSES
DEPARTMENT OF THE CLASSICS
SPRING 2015

❖ CLCV 410: Ancient Egyptian and Greek Architecture
   3 Hours
   Instructor: Professor John Senseney
   TR 2 - 3:20 PM

❖ CLCV 443: The Archaeology of Greece
   3 Hours
   Instructor: Professor Karen Laurence
   TR 11:00 – 12:20 PM
Monuments, material remains, and sculpture and other arts illustrating the development of Greek civilization to 323 B.C.

❖ CLCV 490: Race and Ethnicity in Classical Antiquity
   4 Hours
   Instructor: Professor Daniel Leon
   M: 2 - 4:45 PM
In this course we will examine the issues of race and ethnicity both on a theoretical level and as a historical feature of the ancient Mediterranean world. In particular, we will focus on the way Greeks and Romans defined themselves and distinguished themselves from other peoples and how those attitudes motivated their behavior towards outsiders. We will also examine the perspectives of people who lived in Greek and Roman communities without belonging to the dominant groups, and how they were at times able to mobilize their ethnic identities as a source of empowerment. Ideally, students will gain an appreciation of the powerful role of the ‘Western Tradition’ in producing and justifying modern attitudes towards race and ethnicity while also developing strategies for critiquing and challenging that tradition in a productive way. A series of extended case studies will facilitate this project and we will aim to cover literary, artistic, and archaeological evidence, as well as modern scholarship.

❖ CLCV 491: Seminar in Ancient Architecture
   3 Hours
   Instructor: Professor John Senseney
   arranged

❖ GRK 491: Greek Historiography
   3 Hours
   Instructor: Professor Daniel Leon
   MWF 2 - 4:50 PM
- GRK 580: Plato’s Republic
  4 Hours
  Instructor: Professor Kirk Sanders
  T 2 - 4:50 PM

- LAT 411: Intermediate Latin Composition
  3 hours
  Instructor: Professor Craig Williams
  W 2 - 4:50 PM

- LAT 491: Topic TBA
  3 hours
  Instructor: TBA
  TR 9:30 - 10:50 AM

- LAT 511: Advanced Latin Composition
  1 hour
  Instructor: Professor Craig Williams
  R 4:00 – 4:50 PM

- LAT 520: Roman Comedy
  4 Hours
  Instructor: Professor Ariana Traill
  M: 2 - 4:50 PM

In accordance with student preference, we will be reading Terence’s Eunuchus and Adelphoe, Plautus’ Miles Gloriosus and Menaechmi, and selected mime fragments. The class will cover the basics of archaic Latin, iambotrochaic meters, and textual transmission, as well dramaturgic, literary and historical issues raised by these texts.

Also of interest

HIST 442: Roman Law and Legal Tradition
Instructor: Professor R. Mathisen
TR: 12:30 – 1:50 PM